LOEB, IN PRISON, TAKES LATIN AT COLUMBIA U. BY CORRESPONDENCE

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—

Within the walls of the Illinois state prison at Joliet, Richard Loeb, one of the two Chicago university students who murdered thirteen year old Robert Franks as an experiment in crime,

is conjugating Latin verbs and writing little sentences about "stella" and

"columba," and he is doing it under the guidance of Columbia university.

He is registered in the home study department of that institution for a course in beginner's Latin. It was learned today.

Though at the time of the murder columns were written about "Dickie"

Loeb's superior mentality, he is not getting along very well with his

Latin, according to Levering Tyson, director of the home study department. He registered Jan. 17, 1927, and

U.S. Marines Shoot Down Sixty Rebels

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Nov. 2.—

A combined combat patrol of United States marines and Nicaraguan national guardsmen fought a fierce engagement with guerrillas yesterday, killing or wounding sixty of them. One marine was wounded and two national guardsmen were killed.

Battle 250 Rebels.

The patrol was under command of Lieuts. C. J. Chappell and Moses J.

Gould, United States marine corps.

The fighting occurred six miles southeast of Jicar, and lasted thirty-five minutes. The guerrillas, followers of the rebel, Gen. Sandino, numbered 350.

The marines were hit by fragments from a hand bomb. One of the muleteers was also seriously wounded and six mules were killed.

On the afternoon of the same day,

about three miles from Jicar, the patrol was ambushed by another group of guerrillas, but in a few minutes of

sharp fighting the marines and guardsmen scattered the enemy, although heavily outnumbered. In this clash

there were no known casualties to the patrol, which has been seeking the

MUM ON JURY 'FIXING' CHARGE; TRIAL IS HALTED

Several Indictments Are Expected.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Several indictments based on alleged attempts to "fix" the jury in the conspiracy trial of Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, and

Harry F. Sinclair, New York millionaire oil magnate, which ended in a mistrial today, will probably be returned tomorrow or Friday.

Today's most sensational development in the new scandal was the flat refusal of A. Mason Day, head of the Sinclair Exploration company, to testify before the grand jury on the ground that he might incriminate himself.

Day is accused in an affidavit by Assistant District Attorney Nell Durkin

of having acted as the liaison between Sinclair and the Burns agency

detectives assigned to "make contacts" with the Teapot Dome jurors.

Must Stay in Washington.

Notwithstanding his claim of constitutional privilege Day was ordered to appear before the grand jury again

tomorrow morning and was allowed to leave the court house only after he had assured District Attorney Peyton Gordon that he will make no attempt to leave Washington until the investigation has been completed.

Day was the last of several witnesses, including Edward J. Kidwell, the juror charged with having located he would come out of the Teapot trial with a ports being delivered to Day at his home.

Justice Siders' action in declaring the mistrial as a result of the disclosures made yesterday had been anticipated and hundreds of persons flocked to get into the courtroom expecting to hear Siders' reasons for the bench and see him held for contempt of court.

They were disappointed, however, when Justice Siders merely notified Siders that serious charges had been lodged against him in affidavits which he could read if he desired.

In his formal statement to the jury and counsel for both sides, Justice Siders asserted that "quite independent of the government, counsel's opinion, the court believes that the matter submitted to it is one of grave concern to the administration of justice in this case."

"I now direct the withdrawal of the jury and that it be discharged from further consideration of this case," concluded the justice.

Jury Is Reconstituted

While the courtroom buzzed with excitement, Conrad J. Herzog, one of the jurors, approached Owen J. Roberts, one of the special government prosecutors in the case, to say that he had been chosen by the other ten members of the jury to express their feeling of resentment at the "reflection" which was cast upon them by the mistrial order.

Mr. Roberts explained that the government had no doubts about the integrity of other members of the jury, which it regarded as "a high-minded, intelligent group."

Mr. Roberts called the jury's attention to the fact that "the government did not spend a plugged nickel to shadow you."

"The view of this whole thing," declared Mr. Roberts, "is that each of you was shadowed. You knew you were shadowed everywhere you went, and when you saw a man following you, was it not your natural conclusion that he was a department of justice operative or secret service man?"

Promote Thorough Inquiry

Every member of the jury is to be taken before the grand jury, according to Mr. Roberts, and the charges are to be thoroughly sifted "if it takes three weeks to do it."

Meanwhile it was announced that a date for the selection of the new jury to try the conspiracy charges against Fall and Siders will be fixed tomorrow noon. It is doubtful, according to both the government counsel and defense attorneys, that the new trial can begin before Jan. 1, owing to the necessity for reassembling the government's witnesses from all over the country.

Several hours after the jury had been

American Incomes Increase 43 Per Cent in Five Years

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—The American people last year attained the highest standard of living ever reached in the history of the world, according to a report of the bureau of internal revenue.

The report shows that in 1926 the 117,000,000 people of this country piled up an income of $40,000,000,000. This is an increase of about $27,000,000,000, or more than 43 per cent, in the five years since 1921.

For 1927, experts said, the national income probably would equal or slightly surpass that of 1926.

Business Lags Behind.

While there has been a natural growth of population, industry and business have lagged slightly behind last year's remarkable and possibly abnormal record. The two factors undoubtedly will have an equalizing effect.

Officials are inclined to believe that during the present year commercial conditions are more nearly normal than at any time since the war.

In spite of the increasing standards discharged Fall in a formal statement expressed "deep regret and disappointment over what has just occurred" and asserted that neither he nor any one in his behalf had any knowledge of or connection with the alleged jury tampering attempt.

"In declaring a mistrial, Justice Siders took the obviously right course," Fall declared. "The fair and impartial trial guaranteed to every citizen by the constitution of the United States had been made impossible by the publicity of the last forty-eight hours, irrespective of any other consideration. The determination of Mr. Justice Siders to accord a fair trial has been manifested in this case."

Fall Defends Himself

"In ill health I came here for this trial. It offered me the first opportunity to present to a court and jury my defense to charges which have been made the football of politics and the delight of the muckraker for more than three years.

"Only the evidence of the prosecution has been presented. Not one word had been said in connection with my defense when this case ended.

"I had expected that within the week our opportunity would come. I was prepared to completely refute the charges against me and I entertained of living, colossal installment buying, which has put automobiles, radios and other luxuries and semi-luxuries in an ever greater number of homes; the American people, on June 30, had approximately $30,000,000,000 deposited in savings accounts.

Price Level Less

The bureau showed the national income in 1921 was $12,500,000,000 and that it increased each year since. It increased by $3,000,000,000 in 1922, $7,000,000,000 in 1923, and $3,000,000,000 in 1924, when a total of $25,500,000,000 was reached. The same increase obtained for the average per capita income, which, in 1921, was $1,043, compared with $2,210 in 1926.

"This income indicates the highest standard of living for the population of any country ever attained in this or any other country," the bureau declared.

"This great increase in income is not the result of an increase in the price level, for the average price of consumed goods was actually slightly less in 1926 than in 1921."

no doubt whatever but that a verdict of acquittal would be rendered because I am confident that my confidence would convince every fair minded man of my integrity and the complete rectitude of my every action in connection with the Teapot Dome lease.

"I am ready for retrial immediately. I am sorry the government feels that impossible. I particularly regret the delay because of the state of my health. I fear by inability to contend with the rigors of Washington climate during a trial in the winter. When this case is fully tried, and all sides have an opportunity to be heard, my defense will be complete."

HEAD DETECTIVE EFFICIENCY LIST.

Berlin, John Walsh and William Bowler headed the efficiency list of detective teams for the month of October with a total of 1,323 points, according to figures given out yesterday by Chief of Detectives William E. O'Connor. They are assigned to narcotics cases.

HIGHER COURT FREES WOMEN VOTE OFFICIALS

The Appellate court yesterday indicated it will give serious consideration to the question of whether women are eligible to serve as election officials.

This was foreseen in that tribunal's issuance of writs of superadeo granting bail, pending an appeal, to Mrs. Tina Wortman and Mrs. Lena Coine, sentenced to a year in Jail by County Judge Edmund E. Jarecki for fraud as poll officials in the 20th ward. They now are free on bail.

Courts Dispute with Each Other.

The women, subjects of a controversy between Judge Jarecki and Criminal Court Judges William V. Brothers and Stanley Karkowal, were produced by their attorneys before the branch of the Appellate court here after the sheriff's office for two days had been unable to locate them.

The sheriff had been trying to serve them with capias issued after Judge Brothers and Karkowal reversed themselves and agreed with Judge Jarecki that the writ of superadeo and not that of habeas corpus was the proper writ to seek in the women's cases.

Judge Thomas Taylor, Jesse Holcomb, and Francis Wilson heard the appeal for bail. Judge Wilson said: "There is some doubt whether women may be appointed to act as judges and clerks of election. There is no doubt that on the face of the statute, it says judges and clerks are limited to men, but some will say that the legislature meant no discrimination between sexes.

Supreme Court to Decide.

"Under the circumstances, by issuing these writs the question can be taken to the Supreme court, and decided."

Politicians fear the results of a possible ruling barring women from serving at the polls. There has been difficulty in the past in obtaining enough clerks and judges to serve at the precinct polling places with three out of five of those officials women.

Arthur Anderson Succeeds Gary as N. U. Trustee

The vacancy on the board of trustees of Northwestern university, caused by the death of Elbert H. Gary, has been filled by the appointment of Arthur Anderson, a Chicago business man, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Anderson is a graduate of the University of Illinois and also has a degree at Northwestern. He was a professor there for 13 years before devoting his entire time to business.

COUNCIL VOTES SALE OF HOLDEN COURT TO FIELD'S

Store Gets Block Long
Strip for $493,368.

The sale of Holden court by the city to Marshall Field & Co. for $493,368 was authorized yesterday by the city council. The court is a forty-foot alleyway extending between the two Field store buildings from Washington to Randolph streets. The transaction, which has been pending before the council for a year and a half, was considered by the aldermen for more than an hour, and resulted in a vote of 41 to 7.

Alfred Guy Guernsey (8th) and Ald. Wiley W. Mills (37th), leading the seven opponents to the sale, were of the opinion that the price was too low in view of other realty values in the loop. Administration aldermen, headed by Ald. George M. Maypole (28th), declared the transaction a fair sale at a reasonable price.

"Price Should Be $3,000,000," "There is not a man in this body who would sell his own property at this figure," declared Ald. Mills. "We should get at least $3,000,000." He added that he understood several aldermen who at one time described the sale as a "steal" had changed their minds and intended to support it.

It was Ald. Guernsey's contention that the court should be preserved as a traffic artery, being eventually linked up with Wacker drive. He said he opposed vacation of the court at any price.

In defense of the sale Ald. Maypole explained that the finance committee, which recommended it, had studied the situation thoroughly and was convinced that the city has no further use for the court. As Field & Co. now holds an air rights lease, he said, it would be impossible to build more than a one-story building on the property, and only then by the consent of the abutting property owner, which is the Field company.

Called Good Business Deal. "I think it's time we stopped listening to these reformers who are so keen on badgering big business," asserted Ald. Leonard J. Grossman (5th). "It was Fields that gave Chicago the Field museum and the Shedd aquarium. But aside from that, this is a good deal, as a purely business proposition."

The roll call was as follows: Ayes—Coughlin, Anderson, Jackson, Cronson, Grossman, Meyerling, Gortler, Rowan, Wilson, Hartnett, McDonough, Moran, Coyle, Ryan, McKinley, Prigano, D. A. Horan, Cepak, Toman, Arvey, J. B. Bowler, Sloan, Van Norman, Maypole, A. J. Horan, Clark, Adamewicz, Smith, Petak, Kaindl, Self, Nusser.

FRENCH DOCTORS HERE TO HONOR DR. ISAAC A. ABT

Dr. P. M. Le Mee and G. Illingworth Helle, French physicians attached to the American hospital of Paris, arrived in Chicago yesterday to confer the French Legion of Honor on Dr. Isaac A. Abt, 4810 Kenwood avenue, specialist in children's diseases and attending physician at the Michael Reese and Chicago Lying-in hospitals.

Dr. Helle will make the presentation tomorrow as recognition by the French government of Dr. Abt's work.

The visiting French doctors comprise a committee sent to America and Cuba by the higher board of education of the French universities to study the most recent scientific methods for the prevention and cure of diseases. Yesterday they visited St. Luke's and the Presbyterian hospitals.

SEVEN TWO ON DOPE CHARGES.

Albert Warner, 41, and Albert Young, 34, both of 935 South Main street, were taken into custody yesterday by Sergeants William Bowler and John Walsh of the detective bureau, who said they found a quantity of morphine in their possession.

CHARGES NOT IN TRIAL MAID SLAYER

Police Planted the Evidence on Him.

The stance which he has taken since he was arrested six months ago, Otto Puschel, youthful son of a trial at Waukegan for the murder of Wilma Miller, 30 year old the Thorne Donnelly home at Forest, yesterday told his story happened last May 7, the day he was beaten to death.

After having completed his case
Puschel, he will take the stand in Judge Claire C. Edwards' court to repeat his tale. In it he declares that an acquaintance with him, whom, the state contends,
he met in a bar when she repulsed him.

Puschel declared he had not been in the Donnelly home the day of the murder and explained contradictory statements by himself at the time he was arrested by charging that Lake police struck and kicked him when he was confused.

In Front of Church.
Puschel, chauffeur for Mrs. Abby Ferry of Lake Forest, is 22 years old and a thin, nervous, rather timid youth. The murdered woman has been described as of plain features and sedate manner. State's attorney A. V. Smith, relying on circumstantial evidence, did not offer testimony tending to show a love affair between the two.

Puschel's testimony was outlined in statements of his attorney, J. H. Welch, to the jury. The man first met Wilma Miller in the spring while waiting in his car for his employer, Mrs.
Donnelly, in front of the First Presbyterian church of Lake Forest, the lawyer said.

Puschel and another girl
went to talk with me," said Puschel,
according to Attorney Welch.
I had a camera and wanted to take pictures. I had an hour before let out and I took them in the lake, where they made snapshots. This occurred on successive Sundays, but our acquaintance did not extend further.

First to Home Twice.
Puschel made two visits to the Donnelly home to ask if the film had been developed and on a trivial errand the third time. I have never been in the Donnelly home in my life.

On the day of the murder I was working as an Italian laborer who was taking up the grounds of Mrs.
Donnelly's estate. At about 5 o'clock I went downtown and bought some clothes. I came back to the Ferry home, changed from my chauffeur's suit to a business suit, and prepared to go to Chicago.

On my way to the railroad station, Puschel saw me and that was when he came up to me on the Donnelly property. But I did not go near the house. I was on an electric train when Puschel told me that I had left my keys in the Donnelly home and went back. I went to the Ferry home and I was met by police officers awaiting me taken to the Donnelly home where police officers, his hands smeared with blood, slapped me in the face and told me that I had killed her. I did not know then who was murdered. Later, I was beaten and in a darkened room at the Lake Forest station, and made some statements which were untrue.

Charges Frame Up.
Puschel said that the dead woman's blood found in his pocket, must have been planted there by police. He explained that stains on his sleeve by saying that his nose bled when the police struck him.

State finished its case against Puschel by introducing into evidence a stained handkerchief which Puschel stuffed into the maid's garage. It was identified the murder as Puschel's by Miss Ida Puschel. Placed before this identification and declaring that she would not be certain of the handkerchief's ownership.

County's Physician William D. Mc-Donald testified that the stains on Puschel's coat sleeve were blood. On cross-examination, he said that science could not determine whether the stains were male or female.

NO PARKING TEST IN LOOP DELAYED UNTIL JANUARY

A proposed six weeks' experiment of no parking in the loop district, recommended by the city council's traffic committee to go into effect on Nov.
15, will be postponed until after Jan.
1, Aid. Thomas J. Bowler (40th), chairman of the committee, announced yesterday.

"We feel that because of the business depression which precedes a presidential year that it would be unwise to put on the restriction during the holiday rush season," he explained.

INJURIES BY BUS CAUSE DEATH OF PEDESTRIAN, 89

James J. Bull, 89 years old, 1544 East 52d street, died yesterday of injuries received Monday when he was struck by a motor bus at Stony Island avenue and 62d street. His death raised the total automobile fatalities in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 784. Charles Root, 4, of 2327 Sawyer avenue, was struck and injured possibly fatally by a truck driven by Fred Rohrbach, 5441
West Huron street. The accident occurred near the boy's home.

Out of Prison 3 Weeks, Nabbed Breaking In Home

A Negro burglar, attempted to "bump" a rear door of the home of Howard M. Brown, manager of the Chicago Motor club, at 5001 Woodlawn avenue, while Mr. Brown was entertaining a party of seven at bridge.
Sergeant William Cusack of the detective bureau was in the neighborhood, saw the man, and arrested him. He was John Smith, 33, colored, of 2133 Prairie avenue. Three weeks ago he was released from prison, where he had been serving time for burglary. Mrs. Ellen Maloney of 4119 Ellis avenue identified him as the burglar who took jewelry worth $100 from her home Tuesday morning.

COL. HENDERSON HEADS NEW CITY AIRPLANE GROUP

Col. Paul Henderson, manager of the National Air Transport company and a leader in the development of commercial aviation, will be chairman of Mayor Thompson's new city aero commission.

He was appointed yesterday along with fifteen other members in a communication from the mayor to the city council. The list includes P. G. Kemp, chairman of the former Dever commission, which was dissolved by an ordinance creating the new body.

The first task to be assigned to the commission, it was said, will be the preparation of plans for Mayor Thompson's conference of municipal officials, aircraft manufacturers, and business men to be held in December to discuss aviation development.

Shot in Both Hands as He Grabs Bandit's Guns

Arthur B. Wright, 50, of 8312 Merrill avenue, assistant general manager of the D. C. Heath Publishing company, was wounded in each hand last night as he grasped revolvers leveled at his head by a two gun holdup man.
He was firing a tire in his garage
when two youths entered with a demand for his money. Wright seized the weapons just as one of the pair pulled both triggers.

MARILYN MILLER FREED IN PARIS FROM PICKFORD

PARIS, Nov. 2.—The Versailles tribunal has granted Marilyn Miller, stage and screen actress, a divorce
from Jack Pickford.

The legal version of the break up of the famous movie-household was that Pickford left home and refused his wife's demand that he return. Upon this ground the divorce was granted.
Marilyn Miller went to Paris early this summer. She and Jack Pickford were reported in dispatches from California to have reached an understanding for the purpose of getting a divorce in Paris.

These reports stirred French legal circles where it was felt that the complaisance of the French courts as to divorces was being stretched to the limit. Belief was expressed in some quarters that the motion picture stars would never get their wedding knot untied in Paris. On Oct. 13 it was learned that Miss Miller had brought suit at the Versailles tribunal, the suit being filed quietly in July.

NETCHER DAY

A Sale and a Symbol

[Another Netcher Day has made history.
Another Netcher Day has established new selling records and new value giving records.]

THE public's conception of "Netcher Day" is, that it is a sale. In a measure this is true. It possesses no evidence of being anything else but a mercantile event designed to attract the multitudes who are interested in saving.

NETCHER DAY is planned and executed on a gigantic scale. It is based on value giving, but it has a deeper purpose, a greater significance. It is a symbol of the House of Netcher. It serves to emphasize the buying advantages that are constantly offered by this establishment.

THE qualities and values distributed Netcher Day conform to a standard that is consistently maintained. Dependable merchandise at uniform low prices is available every day in every department. Special selling events day after day make an added appeal to the thrifty shopper.

to assimilate and nationalize the new arrivals as rapidly as possible. It should be our object to arouse pride and interest in the affairs and history of this country, give the immigrants an opportunity to share in the pride of ancestry and the achievements of noted men of their own races.

The Melting Pot Described.

"The Dutch settled New York, the Swedes Delaware. The Germans formed the balance of power in Pennsylvania during the Revolution and were strong in New York, Virginia and North Carolina. We know what the Irish did in Massachusetts and Pennsylvania in organizing the forces of democracy in 1776 and enabling the continental congress to pass the Declaration of Independence.

"Look at what the French have done. They discovered practically all of the west and helped in the foundation of the American republic. The Poles sent Kosciuszko and Pulaski; the Germans, Von Steuben, who organized Washington's army. Conrad Weiser and Christian Frederick Post kept the Indians quiet during the colonial period. We cannot exaggerate the importance of making American history tell the truth.

"We meet a determined propaganda to denationalize the American people, reaching to the source of this pride, polluting the books of history in the public schools. We find the publishers of American histories confessedly English led, with connections in London. Assaults Publisher Putnam.

I call attention to one noted publisher, George H. Putnam of New York, born in London. In a Fourth of July speech Putnam apologized for the American revolution. He said the Loyalists had a fair cause to defend, the cause of good government in the colonies, whether it would be better for good government to improve the royal method rather than breaking away into dubious independence. I think he publishes books used in the Chicago schools.

"In 1919 Lord Northcliffe gave out an interview in Philadelphia, in which he said that the syndicate which he headed controlled sixteen successful papers in leading American cities.

"On July 4, 1919, his paper, the London Times, declared that an efficiently organized propaganda was urgently needed to mobilize the press, church, stage and cinema and the educational systems of both countries, to root the spirit of good will in the homes and schools. He urged that the history texts be revised and that hundreds of exchange scholarships be provided.

Propaganda Cost Reported.

"Louis Tracey, English novelist, who was in charge of the British bureau of information in America, in the New York Sun of Nov. 10, 1919, told how America was kept under the spell of British propaganda during the two years of the war. The director of the exchequer reported this had cost the British government $155,000,000.

"The new school of scientific historians has emancipated our national heroes and carefully suppressed the contributions of the real men of the country. We are told that England conferred independence on this country as an act of good will."

Mr. Schrader then took up the will of Cecil Rhodes, made in 1899, in which the empire builder disclosed his plan for the extension of British rule throughout the world, referring to the "ultimate recovery of the United States as an integral part of the British empire."

More of Rhodes Plan.

In a letter to William T. Stead, Rhodes wrote, according to the witness, that if joint sessions of the house of commons and the United States congress could be managed the peace of the world would be secured for eternity.

"The suggestion was made in the letter for a five year session in Washington and a five year session in London, he added.

"The work is merely going on to annex the United States," said Mr. Schrader.

"Do you think they are trying to take away that independence they so graciously gave us?" asked Mr. Richter.

"I would not put it so crudely," said the witness. "I know that at the imperial conference in London a few months ago the dominions were given political independence with a string to it, the string of King George, by the grace of God. That conference laid the foundation for a confederation of all the English speaking nations.

"Scholarships Part of Scheme."

"The Rhodes scholarships are part of the scheme. They mean 2,000 or 3,000 Rhodes graduates in the prime of life scattered over the English world, each impressed with the dream of union of our people. Suppose the Carnegie fund was used to develop the feeling in Canada that it would be better to be annexed to the United States?"

"The most effective medium of spreading this propaganda is the public schools. Whoever controls the schools and builds a sentiment not absolutely loyal to ideals of our own country has a powerful weapon to destroy that nation, estrange it from landmarks."

"Social influence has a great bearing, the condescension shown by titled persons. I have access to a list of 3,000 decorations bestowed by the British government. They embrace almost all the heads of our great universities and many prominent editors. I could name two in this city who are wearing the decorations of the British government. This has a tremendous influence. Gladstone and Carlyle refused them. There is a perfect mania in America to get them.

"There are many people still living who think democracies are not respectable. Our libraries are swamped with efforts to denationalize the United States and incorporate with the British empire."

"There is evidence that people are thinking about war between the United States and Great Britain." The witness quoted from an article in the Army and Navy Journal for Oct. 28, and from a statement attributed to Theodore Roosevelt that for 50 years the British navy had been the greatest menace to this country. He spoke of the recent English navy program and the review of the new Japanese fleet. All this, he said, "ominously points toward war."

CAN BURN BOOKS BUT WON'T, SAYS MAYOR TO SUIT

Answer to Be Filed in Court Today.

Mayor Thompson's reply to Attorney General Elliott's suit for an injunction restraining him, U. J. ("Sport") Herrmann, and Controller Charles G. Herrmann, from destroying library books, will be presented this morning in the form of a demurrer before Judge Harry M. Fisher.

forth in the mayor's statement are these:

1. Citizens do not have a right to unrestricted use of books in the public library.
2. The right to decide what publications shall be received into the public library or removed therefrom is invested with the directors of the library board, and is a discretionary right that may not be interfered with by injunction.
3. The mayor has the right to investigate or cause to be investigated any public institution.
4. No injunction can be issued against the defendants to restrain them from destroying books of the library, because such is their legal privilege.
5. The mayor and his co-defendants had no intention of destroying any books or having them destroyed.

Again Rape Schlesinger Book.

In the demurrer the mayor seizes the opportunity for another fling at Arthur M. Schlesinger's "New Viewpoints in American History." He asserts that his attention was brought to the library shelves by public spirited citizens who had complained of unpatriotic books there.

Elliott's suit followed on the heels of a threat by Library Trustee Sport Herrmann to seize alleged pro-British volumes and have them burned on the lake front by the public hangman.

Trustees Fail to Resign.

While the pros and cons of book burning were seething in court, the library trustees, who have refused to cooperate with the mayor in his war against King George III, were mulling over the mayor's suggestion that they resign and "let the people have their way." No resignations, were forthcoming yesterday.

"I have no intention of resigning," said Andrew J. Kohar, president of the board. "Why should I? The mayor has made no formal request. I pay no attention to unofficial reports."

Other trustees refused to comment until they had received direct word from the mayor. Whether Trustee Herrmann, the mayor's close friend, was included in the invitation to resign was a matter for speculation yesterday. Herrmann had gone for a cruise in his yacht and was not expected back before Saturday.

Would Take Schools from Politics.

Representatives of eight civic organizations yesterday met at the Woman's City club and drew up a plan to "take the public schools out of politics." A committee composed of Dr. Charles Sumner Bacon, Dr. Louis Mann, Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, Dr. R. O. Thomas, Mrs. E. F. Lang-worthy, Mrs. Edward Loewenthal, and Miss Grace Temple was named to outline a program.

A threatened boycott of American newspapers and periodicals for the public library in Winnipeg, Man., was balked yesterday when aldermen in that city voted down a motion that American journals be rejected because of Mayor Thompson's anti-British outbursts. After Alderman Shore had declared that "the people of the United States do not take Mayor Thompson seriously, so why should we," the Winnipeg council voted to continue the subscriptions.

Edstrom said he ran a still for three weeks, paying the $50 starting price and about $50 a week afterward.

FIGURES LACKING, MISS HALEY'S TAX FIGHT IS CHECKED

State Board Adjourns to Await Developments.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The tax crusade of the Chicago Teachers' federation before the state tax commission yesterday made limited progress toward a revaluation of all real estate in Chicago—the objective of the federation. Miss Margaret Haley, spokesman for the organization, presented no evidence of inequalities on the 1927 valuations. She explained that has been impossible because she has been unable to get the current figures.

Cook county tax officials held that the state commission cannot order a revaluation on any except the unavailable figures of 1927; and until some way around that difficulty is found, progress on the requested reassessment is tied up and may remain so for several weeks. When the board of review has completed its work, which will probably be late in December, inequities in current valuations can be shown, if they then exist.

That was the result of the three hour hearing in the Palmer house in the city of Cook county.

Point to Revaluations Ordered. Chairman William H. Malone and Commissioner Charles R. Francis listened attentively to Miss Haley and again indicated definitely that if she shows gross inequalities in real estate valuations they will order a revaluation. The state board has ordered revaluations in Stephenson and Champaign counties. But in those instances the board of assessors and board of review had completed their work and inequities were shown in the completed job.

The blockade of Miss Haley in Cook county arises from the enormity of the task of a quadrennial assessment. It was pointed out. The board of assessors is supposed to complete the valuations in June; and the board of review is technically required to have completed its adjustments on Sept. 1st. But the board of assessors has not yet finished its work and turned over all its books, and the board of review is just starting to hear about 90,000 complaints, and does not expect to finish its work before Christmas.

May Delay Tax Collection. If after that Miss Haley shows gross unfairness and inequities, and the state tax commission orders a revaluation, the collection of taxes next year may be delayed so that tax extending departments will be calling for cash with which to operate, officials said. The state commission adjourned.

without fixing the date of the next hearing, giving Miss Haley an opportunity to get around some of her obstacles.

Miss Haley argued yesterday that the investigation of the joint tax commission had conclusively shown the inequalities in valuations last year, by a comparison of the tax values with the sale prices on 4,900 pieces of real estate in Chicago. No one disputed that contention. Then in presenting this argument evidence of inequalities in 1927 valuations, Miss Haley quoted the joint tax commission as saying that a fair and equitable valuation cannot be made without an appraisal of all the real estate in Chicago; and that such an appraisal had not been made, although the county board, school board, and city council had appropriated an aggregate of $450,000 for the purpose.

Miss Haley Shows Records.

It followed in Miss Haley's reasoning that the 1927 valuations must be unfair and inequitable. She produced records to show that the board of assessors had failed to comply with the conditions to make the appropriations available for use.

Local tax officials said privately that all Miss Haley's evidence related to 1926 valuations, on which taxes were levied and collected and that the state board could not order a revaluation of the 1926 figures. Since last year, she officials asserted, there has been a substantial change in tax valuations of real estate as is shown by the fact that the assessors have increased the values of eight Chicago townships $769,350,396 over the board of review's figures for 1926.

Adjourns to Springfield.

Leaving the situation thus the commission adjourned to Springfield to hold hearings scheduled some weeks ago, with two exceptions. Miss Haley charged that the board of assessors and board of review had not made and published rules of procedure as the law requires, nor since 1911 had published tax valuation lists as also required by statute. Attorney Roy A. Messers for the board of review said that rules of procedure had been revised and would soon be published, but he told the tax commission he had no information on publication of tax lists. He is to report on that later.

CRIMINAL 'FENCE' COSTS MILLIONS, DELEGATES TOLD

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Delegates attending the opening sessions of the national crime conference were told today that annual losses running into hundreds of millions of dollars are suffered by American business men as the direct result of the activities of the "fence," the criminal receiver of or dealer in stolen, embezzled and fraudulently obtained property.

Marshall S. Mattuck, chairman of the special business men's committee, asserted that halting of the annual losses caused by the "fence" is one of the most serious problems now facing American business men. Comparatively few businesses are safe from the depredations of this class of criminal and no class of business is immune, Mattuck said.

Cases submitted to the National Association of Credit Men for investigation and prosecution on an average show losses aggregating close to $100,000,000," Mattuck said. Assuming that only one crooked failure in three comes to the attention of that body, the cost is conservatively estimated at $100,000,000; and in at least 90 per cent of fraudulent failures, the "fence" must be present for its consummation.

Mattuck said a member of the New York crime commission had reached the "startling conclusion" that the people of the United States were taxed $25 per year for each individual member of their family because of the activities of the criminal receiver of stolen property.

Northwestern to Honor Memory of Student Hero

Recognition of a daring exploit performed seventy years ago by a young Northwestern university student will be perpetuated in a new dormitory on the campus. The university announced yesterday the building has been named Spencer hall, after Edward W. Spencer, who rescued seventeen of the thirty survivors from the Lady Elgin, a ship that foundered in Lake Michigan with 400 aboard. The student, his health broken by his act of bravery, died shortly after going west to regain his strength.

EUROPE SHIPS NEW CARGOES OF GUNS TO JAPAN

Munitions Go to Ports
Near Manchuria.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, Nov. 2.—Heavy shipments of war material for Japan are still being made from Europe to ports in the far east, it is learned today. It was learned today that inquiries have been made in the London market for 100,000,000 insurance on cargoes of guns, and munitions to be shipped from Hamburg by the German Rickmers line for Dalmey and Port Arthur. The goods are coming from Hamburg overland from Prague, and it is said that they have been manufactured at the Skoda armament works.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
SHANGHAI, Nov. 2.—The Christian general, Feng Yu-hsiang, today defeated Chang Tso-lin's troops at Kwei-teh, eastern Shantung, and captured more than 12,000 prisoners. Gen. Feng immediately announced the continuance of his drive eastward against Haichow-fu at the junction of the Tientain, Pukow, and Lungshai railways, which, if captured, will open the way to the sea. A mass meeting at Nanking today, supposedly fostered by the Nationalist government, voted to launch a boycott against Japanese goods in order to prevent the Japanese government from opening negotiations with Marshal

Chang Tso-lin over the Manchurian and Mongolian questions.

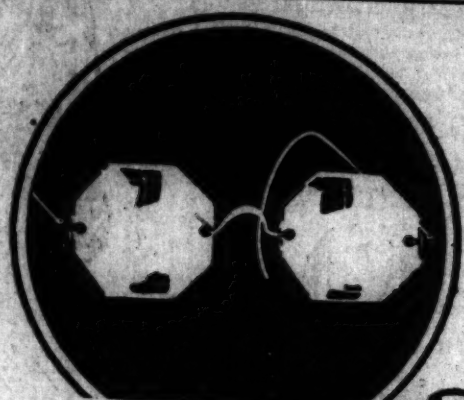

U. S. CONSULATE LOOTED

BY CHARLES DAILY.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PEKING, Nov. 2.—A consular investigation at Nanking has revealed the shocking condition of the American consulate premises, which were wrecked and looted last April during the occupation of the city by Nationalist troops. Following foreign protests, Gen. Chiang Kai-shek's body guard was placed at the consulate. An investigation after six months shows further looting and destruction have occurred. Three safes in the American consulate previously untouched, have been forced and bound volumes and other valuable papers have been carried off and hawked about Nanking, chiefly being sold as waste paper. One safe contained personal effects of American Consul John K. Davis, including all his silver and other valuables, with several thousand dollars. All these properties have been removed.

HELP WASH OUT KIDNEY POISON

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salt, which helps to remove the body's waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take raw and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

SEEKING A REMEDY FOR NOTORIOUS INJUSTICE.

Our tightest defender of a republican and representative form of government, John B. Ferguson, has won a decision in the Circuit court of Judge Michael Feinberg that no reapportionment of the legislative districts of Illinois since the census of 1880 has followed the requirements of the constitution. The decision is not upon the point that Cook county has been deprived of its constitutional representation by the rural apportionment but it comes in the course of the fight to find a remedy for the nullification of the constitution.

The point sustained is that the legislature in making new districts in 1901 and earlier in 1903 did not conform to the constitutional requirements and that hence these acts are void. It has succeeded in depriving Chicago of representation since then by not making any reapportionment at all, although required by the constitution to do so after every federal census and thus equalize representation by making the ratio apply to shifts and growths of population.

The situation against which Cook county has been contending in search of its guaranteed rights has been one not contemplated by the legal system supposed to govern the country. It has contained a conceded injury for which no legal remedy could be found. It is supposed to be inconsistent with American law to have a damage which could not be remedied in law. The denial of essential rights is notorious and conceded. The people who do the wrong admit their intent to continue doing it and the people injured have looked in vain for legal procedure which could protect them. That has been the case thus far and the only remedy in sight is one of political action to which the Cook county masses have not yet been sufficiently goaded, that of sending the state officers by electing only Cook county candidates. That would be an expedient and not a legal remedy.

The case decided in the Circuit court will go up for decision by the Supreme court. Cook county with a decision looking toward a remedy is still seeking to prove the doctrine that the law has a remedy for an obvious wrong.

It is not proved yet and until it has been it events a defect in government methods which is in the very foundation of the government itself.

ROBBER BARONS IN CHICAGO.

State's Attorney Crowe has caused the arrest of a man accused of promoting the Association of Candy Jobbers by means of violence and threats of violence. In addition he has created a bureau in his office to deal with complaints from persons threatened by organizers of petty trade associations. He has pledged himself to put an end to the extortion of dues, initiation fees, and fines by sluggers.

The state's attorney's announcement is reassuring. The organizers and their sluggers are not politically important. They have votes and they control votes. Possibly for that reason office holders have frequently failed to view their activities as menacing and the organizers have been able to coerce peddlers and small merchants of a dozen sorts into associations. Sometimes the members get extrajudicial protection from unfair competition in return for their initiation fees, dues, and fines, but in recent months the tendency appears to have been toward the organization of associations whose sole purpose is to provide an income for the organizer. A tradesman who hesitates to join the association is threatened a beating or even with death and occasionally the threat is carried out as an object lesson to others. In Alabama men are beaten to make them sell their farms for a song; in Chicago men are beaten to exact tribute.

Needless to say, these tactics mark a reversion to the dark ages. The robber baron with his band of men at arms is again laying tribute on the defenseless. If more useful, members of society. The success of these organizers is the measure of the failure of government to meet its most elementary task, the protection of the life and property of every citizen. Their success is also the measure of the collapse of the democratic ideal of equality before the law. It means that government exists itself only on behalf of the wealthy and the influential, the boulevard dwellers, while the humble of the back streets are at the mercy of any one who has the will and the ruthlessness to levy upon them.

This kind of thing can go on only when law-enforcing officials are complacent. There is plenty of law and public sentiment to send the offenders to the penitentiary. If not to the gallows, and the evidence is not difficult to obtain if the determination to obtain it exists. Mr. Crowe may feel assured that the community is supporting him in his new campaign and is waiting closely for results. The supremacy of the law demands punishment of the robber barons and their men at arms.

DEATH ON NARROW ROADS.

John J. Mitchell and his wife were buried Tuesday. Mr. Mitchell would have celebrated the seventy-fourth anniversary of his birth today if he had lived. Although that is a full span, the lives of both Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were rich in usefulness and importance to the city and their family and friends. Their days were full of pleasant prospects.

They were the victims of narrow roads. They were killed on Milwaukee avenue near Libertyville on a highway too narrow to permit the safe passage of automobiles. A hay wagon was occupying one lane of the road. An automobile driver behind that wagon attempted to pass it. He narrowly avoided hitting a car in the other lane. Both cars went into the ditch to escape a worse accident, and the drivers were quarreling as to the responsibility when the Mitchell car came on the scene on a rise in the grade which prevented a sight of the people in the road until the car was almost upon them. The Mitchell driver turned out on the shoulder of the road. In that soft surface the car skidded and went into the ditch.

A two lane thoroughfare is impractical for modern travel, and it is almost criminally negligent of the safety of the users of the road. The circumstances of the death of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were fully reported because of their prominence in the community. It is not of general knowledge how many people less well known suffer injury or death because of accidents directly attributable to the folly of road makers or their perversity in laying inadequate pavement.

With three lanes of travel the dangerous situation which was created by the hay wagon would not have existed. The slow moving vehicle would not have been an obstruction to the first car. There would have been clearance, and even if the Mitchell car had come upon an obstruction there would have been room for it.

Safety and narrow roads are inconsistent. The fact that they cannot carry the traffic is becoming the least consequential charge against them. They are proved dangerous. They not only slow up travel and on crowded days make it next to impossible, but they are the cause of accidents, injuries, and death. The officials responsible for a continuance of narrow road making are building perils into the roads. That is their additional responsibility.

THE MIDDLE WEST'S TURN.

Congressman Martin B. Madden of Illinois announces from Balboa, Canal Zone, that the United States must spend approximately $110,000,000 on the canal in the next few years. The growth of traffic makes it imperative that a new storage reservoir be created and that the locking facilities be doubled.

At the same time, and evidencing the canal's increasing commercial importance, comes the report that traffic through the canal during October broke all previous records. A total of 587 vessels passed through, paying tolls of $3,560,000.

Were we seaboard dwellers we would listen heartily to Mr. Madden proposing that the country at large pay for the improvements to the canal; we'd know that we should profit handsomely because the canal cuts our transportation costs, and we should not mind having others, whom the canal does not help, share the expense.

But we do not happen to dwell on the seaboard. We belong to the middle west and its agricultural, manufacturing, business, and financial industries. We happen not to enjoy being taxed for something that hurts instead of helps us. The money of the middle west helped pay for the canal, the tolls of which are so low, favoring the seaboard shippers, that they do not even pay us interest on our investment.

If it can be shown that the improvements to the canal are necessary as a measure of national defense, either in whole or in part, the middle west will gladly pay its full share or a pro rata share. It does not get any navy yards, but it is interested in the welfare of the navy, the key of which is the canal.

But if the improvements to the canal are for commercial reasons only, then the middle west suggests that it ought to have first call on that $110,000,000 to further the system of midwestern waterways it has been promised. When the seaboard has helped the middle west to gain some degree of commercial parity through the creation of the central waterway system, then it will be time enough to come around asking for more money for the canal.

Editorial of the Day

CLERGYMEN AND PROHIBITION.

(The Baltimore Sun.)

A poll has been made public by the Church Temperance society showing the attitude of Protestant Episcopal clergymen on the subject of prohibition. Out of 2,600 answers received, 1,138 say that the law does not do the best solution of the problem of intemperance; 824 take the opposite view. The vote in favor of modification of the Volstead law was 1,032 to 593, and of repeal of the eighteenth amendment, 825 to 793. What influence such a poll has on public opinion is open to debate, but it has importance from another point of view.

For several years following enactment of the Volstead law it took courage to express doubt of its efficacy. The Anti-Saloon league and other overzealous advocates of the law began a bitter denunciation of anybody who took issue with them. Lifelong devotion to the cause of temperance did not save those who were skeptical as to the wisdom of the step that had been taken from being accused of being "hirelings of the brewers and saloonkeepers." The man who intimated that the law could not be enforced was a "tool of the liquor interests." One who believed the law too drastic was "after a drink of rum." To question its expediency was equivalent to an attempt to "upset the constitution." Mere discussion was viewed as a crime, an incentive to lawlessness, and agitation for amendment or modification was a heinous sin. Indeed, it has not been long since publication by newspapers of the facts about the workings of the law in various parts of the country. Even in pursuit of their business and duty, and represented as an evil conspiracy to bring back the drooping.

All interested in a sane settlement of the problem must view with satisfaction developments which permit debate of it on some higher plane than that of epithet and aspersion of motive. The character and volume of the more recent questioning of the law and its administration, so far as they help intelligent men and women, who wish to see the nation temperate in fact as well as in name, to weigh the issue without passion and prejudice, are of consequence. It is in this connection that a poll showing the attitude of a large and responsible body of clergymen, moderate and thoughtful, as the difference in the tallies on the several questions shows, has its chief significance.

How to Keep Well

OUTLOOK FOR MEASLES VACCINE GOOD.

THE outlook for the control of measles through a vaccine and an antitoxin becomes better year by year. Tunncliffe and White, using the quality of the antitoxin which they think causes the disease, have been able to produce a vaccine which has protected a fair proportion of the children vaccinated with it. It did not protect all of them, but there is ample time to make the product more potent if they prove to be on the right track. They used large animals for inoculation. Therefore, there will be no question as to the availability of a supply should the remedy prove right.

In making their product Drs. Tunncliffe and White use the same plan of injecting that Dochez used in making his scarlet fever antitoxin. Perry is working along the same general lines with his coccus of measles. Park gives his opinion that the Tunncliffe and the Perry measles coccus are one and the same.

A year ago Hoyne reported success with a measles vaccine made from the Tunncliffe coccus by a different method. Outlines of these methods there are the methods of vaccination in which serum from persons who have had measles is made of the serum. The reports on vaccination with this human material continue to be satisfactory. According to one plan, serum from persons just recovering from measles is used to vaccinate others. According to the other plan, the serum of persons who had measles months or years earlier is made of use. The results reported from both methods are very good. However, with both there are practical difficulties. It is not easy to get a supply of serum from persons who are satisfactory in all respects. It is neither easy nor convenient to keep the serum. It is not an easy matter to keep it when it is made. The vaccine is not adapted to ordinary commercial methods, which amounts to the same as saying it is not practicable on a basis of general use.

Meanwhile, as we enter on another winter season, it is well for us to understand the seriousness of measles. It is but little danger in the mild, uncomplicated attacks, but there is no way of knowing when complications are likely to enter. Complicated cases are exceedingly dangerous. We do know that complications are especially dangerous in children under three years of age.

HIS BREATH IS BAD.
L. W. writes: I am a young boy 17 years old, and I have a bad breath. For the last three months I have been bothered with bad breath which smells like the odor of a garbage can, which I have a natural bowel movement every day and I have tried many remedies such as charcoal tablets, and other breath purifiers, but these do me no good. I have also had my teeth examined and they are all right. Being around my friends a great deal, I hate to have the odor of a garbage can from the mouth. I am writing because I thought you may be able to tell me how to overcome it.

Some breath odors come from the nose and the nose sinuses. Decay of the teeth at the tongue and of material in the crypts of the tongue is sometimes a cause. But the most frequent cause is absorption from the intestinal tract. What this is the cause of is not clear. It is a condition of the diet which overcomes this form of halitosis is composed principally of one or more kinds of food, such as meat, vegetables, and fruits with a moderate amount of bread, cereals, and meals.

THE BEST WEIGHT.
Miss D. B. T. writes: What should a woman 34 years of age, 5 feet 5 inches tall, weigh?
The customary figure is 135 pounds. This is the average weight of a large number of normal women of that age and height. However, the average weight of normal women is about ten pounds above the figure. As a rule, the best weight for a given height and age is influenced by nationality, size of bone, muscularity, and other factors. You are just at the age when wise people try to shift into the best weight or even moderate obesity is a good thing; after 35 it becomes a liability.

PRIVATE PAYING CONTRACTS.
Calvin H. Oct. 27.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.) I have a party to a pavement in the rear of my property when the owner did not sign for it, must the owner pay for it? This has been done by a private contracting company above the law. The real estate business for twenty-five years and have always thought all property owners must sign to accept a paving.

The Supreme court in Goodrich v. Taite, 231 Ill. 336, held that although the mechanic's lien law gives a lien for paying adjoining the property in question provided the improvement is connected with an improvement on the property, it does not give a lien for paving which is not so connected with an improvement as to be a part of it. Hence we are of the opinion that no mechanic's lien commonly attaches for alley paving work.

The chances of their recovering on an implied promise would depend on all the facts tending to support or rebut the implication of such a promise. If the mere service written notice before the work is done that he is not undertaking to pay, he would not be in a position to make any claim that there was an implied agreement to pay but the ally might be saved having cut out the paving. If the ally served a court or jury will naturally be tempted to give all possible benefit of the doubt to the contractor.

FATS FOR HIS CHOICE.
Chicago, Oct. 27.—(To the Legal Friend of the People.)—I injured my leg at work. I want to the insurance company doctor but he set an infection. I want to my own doctor then for treatment and have paid a bill for $25 from him. The company returned this bill to me when I submitted it for payment. Must I pay the bill?
O. F.
It is the general rule that where an employee is injured by the negligence of the employer, the employee need not pay for other services that the employer renders.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Here to the line, let the type fall where they may.

MINSTREL'S FAREWELL.

Let it be written: there was valor—
Say it and kindly: there was pain,
When autumn covers the town's gray squares
With misty reaches of falling rain.
Let a last sound go ringing brightly,
Hung with the bells of lusty passion.
—Love that was spat on—smiling lightly,
Kissed to the sky in lordly fashion.
Let the dear leaves go gold and scarlet
Down to the earth replenished daily.
Here was no lousy, skulking varlet,
Here was a minstrel singing gayly.
Let it be written, so want singing
Down to the silence, down to pain,
A last song torn from the heart and ringing
Through the reaches of falling rain.

CANADA.

THANK YOU, WEATHER MAN, thank you very much for answering our little plea so promptly. Yes, that's service. The little voice which urged into the air the words of our minstrel, very brave weather indeed, fine cheery autumn weather. Now then for a little snow; not too much, mark you, just a sprinkling to give an added touch to real November weather.

PROBY KAT.

No Gentleman Ever Heard a Story Before.

RHL: Have you heard this one? If not, now it can be told, because her show has left Chicago, so it's probably all right. She's a star, and not as young as she used to be, and because of occasional outbursts of temperamental isn't as popular with some of the chorus girls as she might be. One night during the Chicago run the stage manager called outside the star's dressing room: "Miss X," there's a lady here to see you who says she wants to school with you. Whereupon one of the chorus girls piped up with: "Wheel her right in."

CAMP.

"WHAT I HOPE," wrote Mrs. Edward F. Swift to the city council, "is that, being the case, after we get through with our war against 'institutional,' 'substitution,' and 'noose' we are going to launch our Anti-Tub Club. That 'that' that we refer to is being worn out by overuse."

GOOD LUCK, MR. BAKRAK!

Dear Dookie: I am very glad to learn that Destruction, the famous bongo, arrived O. K., and maybe I should tell a couple of his characteristics so you will know how to handle him. In the first place he is self-conscious about his weight; so please don't let nobody laugh at him, in fact he is so ashamed that when company comes to your house he will be compelled to take on the front room rug. Of course this may cause your furniture to scrape against the ceiling but please be patient with him, Dookie, on account he doesn't know no better yet. Anyhow, when he is full grown he can't stand released it on a bond of $100,000. Most of the vessels captured were burned and the crews put in irons.

NEED OF CANCER HOSPITAL.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—I believe so thoroughly in your editorial on the need of a cancer hospital that I am hoping you will take one step further in stimulating public opinion and take charge of a fund toward this, until such time as it has grown big enough to turn over to a regular organization.

Surely there are thousands of people who apart from any charitable urge would recognize that money thus devoted may be for themselves the most paying kind of life insurance. I remember six or seven years ago in Peking, when I saw what Rockefeller had done with the Peking university, that I tried to interest Henry Ford in building the same sort of monument through a cancer research hospital, and knowing his aversion to philanthropy, I put it on purely materialistic and selfish grounds, i. e., that he or his family might easily be saved through money thus devoted.

NEW POLICE UNIFORMS.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—In Tuesday's Tribune you published the picture of a Chicago policeman in winter uniform. I would like to inform the public that the city does not furnish these tops, as you call them; they cost every man $10.50. All the city gives the policeman is the shirt, shirt and club. The uniforms cost a great deal and every time a new chief is put on the job he is sure to make some change in the uniforms at the expense of the poor policeman. This $10.50 could be put to a better use in this family of eight than wasting it on this harness.

PLEAD CASE FOR BIGGER SLASH IN CORPORATION TAX

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Although additional witnesses representing powerful business groups presented arguments before the house committee today in support of a greater reduction in the corporate income tax than proposed by the treasury, majority members of the committee appeared adverse to their plan.

Representatives of leading trade organizations urged that the tax on corporation earnings be cut from 13 1/2 to 10 per cent.

The attitude of the Republican members of the committee seemed to indicate that the bill, as it will be reported from the committee, will reduce the

the corporation tax to about 12 per cent, as recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. Those Republicans who favor a greater tax reduction than $225,000,000, the treasury maximum, are likely to give preference to the repeal or reduction of the automobile and other miscellaneous taxes which Secretary Mellon would retain.

The Democrats, led by Representative Garner (Dem., Tex.), who are talking for an aggregate reduction of $400,000,000 and for a reduction in the corporation tax to 10 per cent, have no expectation of controlling the action of the house committee.

Witnesses appearing before the house committee today in support of a reduction in the corporation tax to 10 per cent included Alfred P. Thom and C. S. Duncan of the Association of Railway Executives; Frank Wiener of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association; H. L. Gandy of the National Coal association, and W. L. Crounse of the National Wholesale Druggists' association.

Mr. Duncan said that the railroads in 1926 paid in federal taxes $110,000,000. Mr. Wiener asserted that the public debt is being reduced more rapidly than is justified and that revenue in prospect fully warrant a cut in the corporation tax to 10 per cent.

P. W. Pinkerton of Chicago, president of the American Society of Public Accountants, appeared for the Illinois Chamber of Commerce to urge amendments to various administrative provisions of the tax law. Mr. Pinkerton advocated a reduction in the corporation tax rate and also favored a lowering of surtaxes on individual incomes. He proposed the elimination of the present earned income credit, but said that the same saving might be provided for taxpayers by an adjustment of rates in the lower income brackets.

Nathan W. MacChesney of Chicago, general counsel of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, presented a statement on behalf of that organization proposing amendments relating to real estate installment sales, capital gains, depreciation and other administrative questions.

J. Englander of New York, representing consumers cooperative organizations which, he said, are composed of 700,000 members in various parts of the country, asked tax exemption for them.

GROUND BROKEN FOR BUILDING OF SHEDD AQUARIUM

Ground was broken yesterday for the construction of the new $2,000,000 Shedd aquarium in Grant park on the lake at the foot of Roosevelt road. The contract for the general work was let to the R. C. Wieboldt company.

The structure will be a memorial to the late John G. Shedd, who donated the money to insure Chicago the greatest aquarium in the world. The plans prepared by Graham, Anderson, Probst, and White follow a pure classic design into which has been introduced ornamentation suggestive of marine life.

Octagonal in shape and with an octagonal dome rising from the center, the structure will be 300 feet in diameter, approximately 100 feet high, and surrounded by a broad pedestrian terrace. The exterior will be in harmony with the Field museum.

How Noted Film Beauties Guard Against "YELLOW MASK"

Here is their secret for white teeth beauty—accept it immediately.

In Los Angeles, capital of the motion picture industry, more than 42,000 tubes of ORPHOS TOOTH PASTE were bought in ten days alone.

No profession demands pearly white teeth so exactingly as does that of the screen.

If teeth are slightly yellowish they photograph dark.

Until ORPHOS TOOTH PASTE was created, stars of the screen had to have their teeth cleaned and polished almost daily by dentists, because no dentifrice could safely assure that gleaming enamel whiteness so essential to dramatic beauty.

The base of ORPHOS is entirely different from ordinary dentifrices—and that's why it can impart such dazzling beauty effects. This base is "Tri-Calcium Phosphate," a substance foremost dentists use to clean and polish teeth. It cannot harm the softest enamel. And the lustrous whiteness it gives to the teeth is bewitchingly lovely. No other dentifrice can give such teeth loveliness.

If your teeth have a yellowish tinge (look now and see!)—if they're discolored or dull, here is the tooth paste to use. Begin its use today. Discard your old-fashioned dentifrice. Buy ORPHOS and win teeth beauty—quickly!

U. S. AND MEXICO TRY DIPLOMACY ON HAM AND EGGS

Calles Has Morrow as Guest at Breakfast.

When he set forth clearly and emphatically:
"We do not want to interfere in the internal affairs, organization or management of Mexican labor. We are willing to help with advice and to give to the younger labor organization south of the Rio Grande the benefit of our wider, more varied and longer experience. We believe organized labor in Mexico, as in every other country, can become strong and effective only when Mexican labor leaders learn to solve their own problems."

Americans Consult with Calles.
This stand of Gompers saved American-Mexican labor relations when it appeared that they had become permanently divided. After Gompers' death American labor delegates continued to visit Mexico and to consult with Mexican labor leaders, with Minister of Labor, Commerce and Industry Morones, an intimate friend and admirer of Gompers, and not infrequently these labor delegates were consulted with President Calles himself.

Thus Mexican organized labor, as represented by the C.R.O.M., swung more and more away from Kujalski, which still continued its hold, through the Reds, on the railways, factories, mines and oil fields. The Reds, too, continued their propaganda among the agrarians and holders of lands in common, and in the meantime the C.R.O.M. swung round to Gompers' idea of the inutility of communal land holding as a social development.

Russians Fight C.R.O.M.
The Russian legation in Mexico City, surrounded with having sixteen secretaries and clerical employees, secretly continued to fight the C.R.O.M., although the latter had been instrumental in establishing diplomatic relations between Mexico and Russia. Soviet agents went about the interior of Mexico stirring up agrarians, oil field employees, railway men and factory hands against the C.R.O.M.

Soon the showdown came. Mme. Kujalski, Russian diplomatic representative in Mexico, was accused openly of propaganda in favor of communism, stirring up international trouble and of fighting organized labor as represented by the C.R.O.M. She left Mexico under a cloud and has not returned. Julia Leon, minister of agriculture and advocate of communal lands for Mexican peasants and supporter of the agrarians, stepped out of the Calles cabinet a year ago because his work tended to prevent the extension of the influence of organized labor among the peasant farmers. And here again the influence of the dead American labor leader was at work.

About a year ago American and Mexican labor fraternity came near to a break over the treatment of Catholic bishops and priests in Mexico. Mexican labor delegates hurried to the United States to prevent, if possible, the threatened break; American labor delegates came to Mexico with the same end in view, while the Reds seized the opportunity to denounce both organizations. But the spirit of Gompers rose above the conflict and proclaimed:

"The American Federation of Labor has no right to interfere in the internal affairs of Mexican organized labor."
"The policy of the Mexican government toward the Catholic church, property holding, or any other purely local policy does not concern the American Federation of Labor so long as they do not interfere with the progress of labor unionism."

Cancellation Policy Prevails.
Labor leaders on both sides pointed out that a break between American and Mexican labor would leave the door open for more aggressive action from the Reds and that, moreover,

though Calles headed a labor government, this did not make organized labor in Mexico responsible for the acts of his government since the only labor leader in the Calles cabinet was Minister of Industry, Commerce and Labor Morones; and that the Mexican labor party did not pretend to exercise influence on the acts of the Mexican government in any other direction than that directly affecting organized labor.

Calles continued on friendly terms with the agrarians, Red labor, and the socialists without losing his standing as labor president, for Gompers' doctrine that the spirit of conciliation was the one sure road to labor solidarity prevailed.

BARON GETS O. K. OF REICHSTAG AS ENVOY TO U. S.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
BERLIN, Nov. 2.—Baron Friedrich von Prittwitz und Gaffron, counselor of the German embassy in Rome, will go to America as ambassador despite the opposition of the Nationalists. The Reichstag commission this evening approved the nomination and it is understood Washington's acceptance has been received by the foreign office. Chancellor Marx returned to Berlin today and intended to hold a private conference with the inner cabinet circle, but the Nationalists insisted on a full sitting. They demanded that Baron von Prittwitz und Gaffron be dropped and that the recent note of Seymour Parker Gilbert, American agent general for reparations, to the German finance minister be published. They were defeated on the first point, but carried the second. The text of the memorandum and the German reply will be published on Sunday.

PRIMARY LAW UNDER ATTACK IN TWO COURTS

Fergus Suit Stirs Up the Downstaters.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Gossip around the Chicago courts where important political battles are being waged included a report yesterday that downstaters opposed to senatorial reapportionment on constitutional lines have begun a search for ways and means to upset the ruling of Judge Michael Fainberg in the Fergus case on Tuesday.

It was said that the effort is directed toward finding a method of intervening in the event the Fainberg decision nullifying the reapportionment acts of 1901 and 1933 is carried to the state Supreme court by County Clerk Sweetser, whose demurrer to the demand that he receive notice and petition on the senatorial district basis of 1933 was overruled.

Say Fergus Strays from Home.

The entire case, brought by John B. Fergus, rests on the contention that Kane and Adams county were discriminated against in the two apportionment acts attacked, and the downstaters, it is said, want to protect to the higher court that Mr. Fergus, a resident of Cook county, has no legal right to complain against injustice to other counties. The theory is that point won't be emphasized if the appeal is controlled by County Clerk Sweetser.

While no one could say where they originated, the rumors of this contemplated downstate activity were general around the courtroom of Judge Harry M. Fisher, where arguments were concluded in the second big election law case occupying the attention of Chicago courts this week. This was the petition of Julius Kreeger, as a taxpayer, to knock out the new general primary and legislative primary laws passed by the last legislature.

Judge to Rule in Week.

Judge Fisher, after listening to statements of attorneys that they wish to present the case to the state Supreme court during the December term, said L. would rule Nov. 10 on County Clerk's Sweetser's demurrer to the plea that he be enjoined from calling a primary for April 10. It was indicated that an appeal will be taken whether he sustains or overrules the demurrer.

The lawyers who addressed the court during the day were Montgomery S. Winning and S. S. Duhamel, members of Attorney General Carlson's staff, both appearing in this case as side of State's Attorney Crowe, who as counsel for the county and its

CHAUNCEY DEPEW 93, BUT WILL TAKE STUMP FOR TWO CANDIDATES

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special].—Chauncey M. Depew, despite his 93 years and many campaigns, has not had his fill of campaigning, judging from the announcement tonight that he would deliver an address at a political reception to Mrs. Ruth Pratt and Assemblyman Samuel H. Hofstadter tomorrow evening.

Mrs. Pratt is a candidate for re-election to the aldermanic board and Mr. Hofstadter to the assembly. The reception will be under the auspices of the Republican organization of the Fifteenth assembly district. Ex-Gov. Charles H. Whitman will also be a speaker.

Officials, was called on to defend the law. Werner W. Schroeder, who supervised the drafting of the law and appeared as amicus curiae, and Henry A. Berger, counsel for Kreeger.

Much of their argument concerned fine technicalities of the law and considerably greater public interest was aroused by discussion of some of the practical angles of the situation in respect to next spring's nominations. A subject of this character was Attorney Schroeder's statement to the court that the long established system of minority representation in the state house of representatives has gone on the rocks. For many years the law has authorized the senatorial committee of each district to determine how many Republicans and how many Democrats shall be nominated for the lower house of the assembly.

Each May Nominate Three.

Attorney Schroeder said the Supreme court's nullification of the 1910 primary law left both parties without senatorial committees or other means of designating the number of their nominees and that therefore the prospect is that each party will have three nominees in each district. Because of the cumulative voting or plumping system in the election of representatives, party limitation of the number of nominees under the old system has kept many veterans in the house of representatives for years as nomination was equivalent to election.

OXFORD, England.—(AP)—City beautiful experts in the United States and South America will not agree with Sir Michael Sadler, who has made up a list of twenty of the world's most beautiful cities. Only Quebec is mentioned in North or South America.

Sir Michael, who is the master of University college, Oxford, in giving his choice of the twenty cities with the greatest charm and character, says he is well aware that he may start a quarrel. Here is his selection, without any attempt at naming the cities in any order of merit:

Rome, Florence, Venice, Vienna, Athens, Constantinople, Paris, Stockholm, The Hague, Budapest, Nurnberg, Rotenburg, Dijon, Angoulême.

COUNCIL BACKS PESKA'S DRIVE ON 'OFFICIAL' STARS

City Attorney Frank Peska received commendation from the city council yesterday for his drive to get rid of "official" stars on private citizens' automobiles. The council adopted a resolution, presented by Ald. John Toman (33d) citing the distribution of stars to persons without police authority as "a violation in spirit and fact of the principle of equality before the law" in that they are used to secure immunity from arrest for traffic law violations.

FARM LEADERS TURN DOWN REED, BORAH, COOLIDGE

McNary Bill Called Only Practical Relief.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Resolutions adopted by the corn belt and southern farm conference, which concluded a two day meeting today, turned down Senator Reed of Idaho with Senator Borah of Idaho, Senator Pugh of Ohio, and Senator Bruce of Maryland as opponents of practical agricultural relief legislation.

"During seven years of continuing agricultural distress the attitude of Senator Borah of Idaho has been one of indifference and obstruction such as to rank him with Reed of Idaho, Pugh of Ohio, and Bruce of Maryland on the question of agricultural policy," the resolutions said.

"We view with suspicion and resent his apparent assumption of the right to speak for a group of progressive Republican senators on farm legislation as well as on presidential politics. In view of his record certainly no true friend of agriculture should be misled by him."

Indorse McNary Bill.
The McNary-Haugen bill was indorsed and declared to be the only practical method of extending equality to agriculture and averting "disastrous price fluctuations through surplus control without government subsidy, government price fixing, or government buying and selling."

While former Gov. Frank O. Lowden was the political idol of the group of agriculturists here, no direct reference was made to him in the resolutions.

Declining with the necessity for a sympathetic administration to carry through the program of agricultural relief, the resolutions declared the farm states of the west and the south have before them "the best opportunity of their history to secure such an administration, if they will refuse to be drawn from their united support of the man in each political party whose position on the farm question is known to be satisfactory and who has a real chance to secure the nomination."

Blame for the failure of farm relief program was laid clearly at the door of President Coolidge, who vetoed the McNary-Haugen bill, passed by the last congress. After referring to the failure in both parties to carry out campaign pledges of farm relief, the resolutions declared "the President of the United States, elected on such a platform, himself barren of constructive proposals, nullified by a veto the act of congress for agriculture."

"This action was taken by the President," it was added, "in the face of his repeated expressions of sympathy with the cooperative marketing movement. The primary responsibility for failure to secure agricultural legislation must therefore rest with the party in power."

The resolutions also charged Andrew W. Mellon, treasurer of the United States, "wants industry to be protected in the domestic market" but "wants the American farmer to face the competition of the poor and peasant farmer of the world single handed and alone."

Hoover, Jardine Annals.
Secretary Commerce Hoover, who like Senator Reed, in a prospective candidate for the presidency, was attacked by a number of speakers but was not mentioned in the resolutions. Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, whose scheme of "stabilization corporations" was frequently ridiculed in the sessions, was not directly mentioned. William Hirth of Columbia, Mo., head of the Missouri Farmers' association, said it was decided not to "digify" Jardine or his program by mentioning either.

REGINALD DENNY SUED FOR DIVORCE; NEGLECT INCREASES, WIFE SAYS

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2.—[AP.]—Suit for divorce against Reginald Denny, motion picture actor, was filed today by Irene Halman Denny. She charged that the higher the actor rose in his profession the more he neglected and mistreated her.

She also charged that Denny treated her with extreme cruelty, causing her to be ill, then neglecting her while she was ill. Another complaint was that the actor purchased an airplane and took their daughter, Barbara, riding regardless of the danger.

The Denny's were married in Calcutta, India, Aug. 28, 1913. The suit stated that a property settlement and an agreement for Denny's support of his wife and daughter had been effected out of court.

ARREST BANKER AFTER 14 OF HIS BANKS COLLAPSE

Caro, Mich., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Peter C. Pardee, formerly prominent in the management of twenty-nine banking institutions throughout northeast Ohio, was arrested here today to face three charges of grand larceny and embezzlement.

The counts against Pardee grew out of the failure of the Ealy-Pardee string of banks throughout "the Thumb" last October, and he disappeared just before the institutions were thrown into the hands of receivers. The banks are now going through bankruptcy with a probable loss of $200,000 to stockholders and depositors.

Fourteen banks failed through the manipulations of Pardee and his associates.

Pardee, 45, was arrested by the Toledo police and is being held in the city jail.

He was charged with grand larceny in the sum of $200,000 and embezzlement in the sum of $200,000.

DOCTOR FIGHTS TO SAVE 150 IN ISOLATED CAMP

Bryson City, N. C., Nov. 2.—[AP.]—A battle for the lives of more than 150 men, women and children, endangered by a serious outbreak of measles and diphtheria, and stranded in an isolated lumber camp at Raven-ford, N. C., is being waged by a lone physician, advised here today said.

The physician, Dr. Reeves, is administering medical treatment with scantiest of resources and is working day and night without pay. His contract with the lumber company expired last week. There are 75 measles cases and a number of diphtheria cases. There are no nurses or other persons with medical training in the camp.

COLORADO MINE AREA QUIET AS PICKETING STOPS

Operators Declare Men Are Returning.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Quiet reigned in the strike-affected coal fields of Colorado today as the miners complied with demands of the state that picketing be stopped. Gov. Adams indicated that if pickets defied the order, National Guardsmen would be sent to the mines.

Operators claimed large increases in their working forces at properties in the southern fields, and expressed the belief that the mine crews soon would be back to normal if there was no more picketing.

Although 400 striking miners at Walsenburg last night voted to picket, there were no demonstrations by the workers in that area today.

I. W. W. leaders, who called the strike, issued an official bulletin from their headquarters in Walsenburg expressing satisfaction with the situation and declaring that "we expect to carry on in the usual way, delegating ourselves to regular organization work."

The statement made no mention of picketing, but Frank Orr, publicity director of the organization, said that "we expect to continue to picket."

The northern Colorado coal operations still were paralyzed by the strike and only one mine, the Columbine, in Weld county, operated. The Routt county field reported many more miners were working, and in Fremont county the situation also seemed improved as to the number of men working.

YESTERDAY, mother knitted while father played. To-day they play the game together. We see partnership all along the line—from sports to business, from airplane flights to the joint bank account, from the purchase of a house to the selection of a vacuum cleaner. But why the change? Are the women and girls of to-day really any more companionable or intelligent than their grandmothers? Or is it simply that they know more about the man's world, more about his problems and his sports, and so understand him better?

Here is one answer. In ever-increasing numbers—now in far more than a million homes—just as many women as men are reading The Literary Digest every week. Yet it has no "departments" edited especially for women. The story it tells is chiefly about what used to be called "the man's world." These women are earning partnership through common knowledge. That is why—

Two Million Women Read The Digest

Nothing will ever make man and woman just alike. A great chasm of mystery will always separate motherhood from fatherhood. Primitive instincts will always underlie the loves, the hatreds, the pride and the sacrifices that inspire or wreck the relations between women and men. But nothing can stop the rapid and steady expansion of the modern woman's interests.

What is more, she knows that she does not have to become like a man—to abandon her feminine charm and rich intuitions—in order to do a man's work or to enjoy an intelligent partnership with him in the tasks of to-day. Of the two million women who read The Digest every week, hundreds of thousands manage their growing families, love to wear attractive clothes, enjoy the luxury of motoring, or sports, or theatres and concerts.

But they are no longer satisfied to live in a world apart from their husbands. They want to keep in touch with the full adventure of life, as it sweeps before them week by week in The Digest. They want to form their own opinions—learn facts for themselves—scan the full human horizon with alert vision. But always, in their hearts, they are women—with eyes that hold great secrets, with loves that no man will ever quite understand. They are the mothers of American manhood—the active partners in America's untold future. Two million of them!

DEATH NOTICES

FRANCE SENDS U. S. TERMS FOR TREATY PARLEY

Offers to Return to Old Tariff Schedule.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
PARIS, Nov. 2.—The Franco-American tariff squall blew over tonight with the delivery of a new French note to the American embassy.

The note, which was signed by the French minister of commerce, and turned it over to the American ambassador, proposed the establishment of a provisional tariff schedule pending the conclusion of a definitive commercial treaty between the two countries. The message says France is ready to begin negotiations for such a pact.

Asks Accord with U. S.
The note requests the Washington government to agree:
That the American government will remove countervailing duties applied to the treasury department soon after the tariff on American products was raised by France.

That no further attempt be made by American treasury agents to investigate "on the ground" the cost of French production, and that henceforth the United States government accept such information from recognized French official sources.

That the American government insure, as possible, will remove sanitary, agricultural and pharmaceutical regulations which hamper the entry of French goods into America.

That America open at once an inquiry by the tariff commission to ascertain whether the duties on certain

French goods, notably silk, textiles, and perfumes, can be reduced one-fifth.

That the tariff commission report the result of its investigations before the conclusion of Franco-American commercial treaty negotiations.

Revert to Old Tariffs.
The apparently ends all the trouble, because, says Tribune, is informed, the United States government already has shown a desire to meet the French demands on the foregoing points.

Under the provisional schedule American goods will revert to the tariff in effect before Sept. 6, when the new Franco-German accord went into force and caused the dispute.

Girl Awakes for While, First Time in Fifteen Days

Miss Dorothy Grigby, 18 year old high school girl, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Grigby, awoke for a few moments yesterday at the Presbyterian hospital for the first time in 15 days since sleeping sickness gripped her. The young woman recognized her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira D. Grigby, and said a few words to them before she fell back into her dreamy sleep. Dr. James Gill, the attending physician, said the awakening was a good sign, and that he expected Miss Grigby to recover.

RADICALS PLAN TO REACH WEST THROUGH RADIO

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—A scheme for broadcasting speeches to the west by radical Republican senators was under consideration at a conference today of the Borah-Norris group.

The plan was presented to congress by Norman Baker of Muscatine, Ia., owner of a radio station in that city. Mr. Baker proposed to arrange to link up his station with one in Washington and thus to provide means for getting the message of the radicals to the rural sections west of the Mississippi.

HOW YOU CAN MAKE MORE MONEY
by Bernarr Macfadden

MANY men train for a lifetime to increase their EARNING POWER, and they fail to take into consideration the most important associated factor. No matter how much ability you may develop, if you are lacking in ENERGY and ENTHUSIASM you will be a FAILURE.

And you cannot possess these invaluable qualities without SUPER HEALTH. Not ordinary health that enables you to go about your daily duties, but that particular VITALITY and VIGOR that puts you on your toes, gives you pep and power, with an unlimited quantity of vivid enthusiasm.

You can't keep such a man down. He can depend with absolute certainty upon SUCCESS. You might just as well try to build a house without a firm foundation as try to build a successful career without the super energies and the keen enthusiasms that accompany ATHLETIC HEALTH.

Which doesn't mean you should train to perform muscular stunts, but that you must build up your BODILY POWERS until you are alive to your very finger tips, and your brain is sharp as a razor, as clear as a bell.

The word failure cannot be associated with characters of that kind. WORK with all your might for super health and then, regardless of your ambition, you can depend upon SUCCESS and the MONEY that accompanies it.

Thousands of outstanding examples could be mentioned to prove the absolute TRUTH of this statement. And if you don't know how to begin to work for dynamic powerful health, PHYSICAL CULTURE MAGAZINE will point the way so clearly that you cannot possibly make a mistake.

One of the most remarkable cases of physical regeneration on record is that of Ernesto Galliardo of New York. When Galliardo was nineteen years old he was, to quote his own words, "a shambling, shivering, hunched, under-weight and under-developed. Years of over-study and over-work, coupled with lack of exercise, careless eating, excessive smoking and lack of fresh air, sunshine and oxygen had slowly but surely taken their toll."

At that time, Galliardo, though five feet six inches in height, weighed only eighty-six pounds. Then, as a result of his troubles, tuberculosis climaxed to his troubles, tuberculosis climaxed to his troubles, tuberculosis climaxed to his troubles, tuberculosis climaxed to his troubles, tuberculosis climaxed to his troubles.

Death lurked "just around the corner." Galliardo, however, not only cheated death, but to-day is instructor in breathing to the New York police, and is himself a perfect specimen of physical manhood. How he did it is told in "Breathing Right Way Back to Health," November Physical Culture Magazine.

HEART SPECIALIST GIVES RULES FOR LONG LIFE
Says Proper Diet, Regular Exercise and Sane Living Will Reduce the Number of Deaths from Heart Disease

A scientific life, involving little or no exercise; failure to eat the kind of food substances needed for building heart and other bodily tissues; improper living in general; no-called mental sublimations; and wrong mental attitudes resulting in physical depression are in large measure responsible for the widespread prevalence of heart disorders, according to Dr. J. Lambert Disney, prominent physician and heart specialist.

"When one gets too little exercise," says Dr. Disney, "the heart is not regularly caused to work hard enough to develop strength in its muscular walls. Sooner or later, in many cases, some unusual strain due to heavy lifting or the like, overtaxes such a heart, resulting in one or more of the recognized types of heart disease."

The importance of selecting the right kind of food lies not only in the necessity of building strong heart tissue, but in supplying the energy essential to proper heart function, especially when the conditions of strain, according to Dr. Disney.

Harmful habits of living, including the breathing of impure air, overwork, lack of sleep, heredity, strong mental suggestion, etc., are accounted by medical science as predisposing causes of heart disorders. But of equal if not greater importance is the question "Can organic heart disease be cured?"

"Apparently many cases have been cured," Dr. Disney writes. "The heart trouble—How to Avoid and Treat Them" in November Physical Culture Magazine. Dr. Disney's latest book, "Can Organic Heart Disease Be Cured?" is a practical guide to the prevention and cure of cardiac disorders that everyone, young and old, should read.

WOMAN DOCTOR TELLS HOW TO KEEP LOVE IN MARRIAGE
Gives Frank Advice to Husbands and Wives

There is no subject, perhaps, that engages a larger place in the public mind than the apparently growing number of unhappy marriages. Some people who start their wedded career with every prospect for life-long happiness together, find themselves after a time on the matrimonial rocks. The result is divorce, separation, or a stolid submission to the fate that has overtaken them.

Are these tragedies avoidable? Is compatibility wholly a matter of temperament, or are there other causes demanding correction, but which the average man and woman know little about?

Miss Taylor Ransom, prominent woman physician, has made a study of the causes of unhappy marriages. Dr. Ransom gives husbands and wives the benefit of her knowledge in November Physical Culture Magazine.

Sammy Mandell, the world's light-weight champion, and Spug Myers of Peapack, N. J., yesterday were matched to meet in a ten round decision bout at the Coliseum on Nov. 15. It will not be a championship fight because Myers cannot make 135 pounds. They have agreed to weigh 127 pounds on the afternoon of the match.

The bout will be staged by Promoter Joe Coffey. This promises to be a busy month in the fighting ranks. Jimmy McFadden, the California lightweight, and Billy Wallace of Cleveland are matched in Detroit on Nov. 25. Sid Terris of New York will not agree to fight Mandell in any other place than his home town. Stanley Lowmyer and Billy Petrolle have matches scheduled for this month and the same is true of other lightweights who eye Mandell's crown.

Myers will be here on Saturday to resume training. Mandell already is at work. A ten round semi-windup and three six rounders will support the main event.

Promoter James Mullen, who put on the Walker-McGuire fight at the Coliseum Tuesday night is planning on matching Walker with Paul Bernbach, the former world's light-heavyweight champion. This bout has been tentatively closed on the coast but Mullen expects to secure the fighters' releases from this engagement. If this bout is closed it will be decided in the Coliseum on Nov. 25.

Mike McFadden, who was stopped after 3 minutes and 15 seconds in the first round by Walker Tuesday night, last Saturday for New York, accompanied by Manager Jimmy Johnston, Mike's face still showed the effects of the punching he received from Walker. He has several engagements in the east and Canada.

Local featherweight under the management of Joe Glass, is training for his last round bout at White City on Monday night with Stewart McKean of Minneapolis. Promoter Mike Malley will announce the remainder of the card tomorrow.

Howard McLean, Louisville and Bud Kearns of Chicago will be the principals in the windup of the boxing show at the C. A. A. on Saturday night. It will be the Cherry Circle club's first show of the season. Four other fights complete the card.

Reitsch Back in Illinois Lineup Peps Up Practice

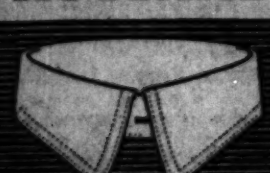

Champaign, Ill., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The return of Capt. Bob Reitsch, who has been resting since the Michigan game, gave an added zest to the practice this afternoon as the University of Illinois football squad toiled in preparation for the game with Iowa Saturday. Reitsch was a bit under the weather in the Michigan game and was relieved by Richmond.

Every member of the varsity squad, with the exception of Jud Timm, was in uniform. Timm was given the afternoon off to rest up. DeMunn returned to work and played an end on the second string.

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Iowa university's football squad today was put through its last hard drill AT IOWA for the homecoming game with Illinois Saturday. Coach Burt Ingwersen sent the varsity against the freshmen team with the latter using Illinois defensive and offensive formations. The regulars experienced little trouble in solving the Illinois defense, reeling off gain after gain through the line and around the fresh backs. Pignatelli, quarter back, continued to star. The Hawkeye coach continued experimenting with new lineups.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The possibility that Donald Riddell might start in the Minnesota back field Saturday at MINNESOTA, day against Notre Dame, in place of Harold Barnhart, became stronger today, as the latter was unable to take part in the scrimmage against the freshmen. Riddell is a pretty fair punter, and for that reason is being given preference over other candidates for the vacancy.

Mallard Does Decoy Act, but Shot in Flight

BY BOB BECKER.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Round Pond, Morris, Ill., Nov. 2.—The mallards are so keen about the buckhead down here that you have to pry 'em loose from the feed pens. You can walk up to some of these prairie ponds and scare several hundred birds into the air, but invariably a few will stay behind. The call of the mallard is too strong. We saw a laughable illustration of this fact today.

Frank Collins had the rubberneck wagon deliver us at Round pond about 3 o'clock. We had visited several other ponds in the prairie with our 12 gauges, so we came up to our last stand with a nice string of birds in the wagon, including both black and green headed mallards. Upon arriving at our blind we started to put out decoys, arrange the cover, and other service set ready for the afternoon shooting.

Porky and Brown passed the decoy pen and, with Queen, the Irish water retriever, started for the other blind, in the center of the pond. There was much laughing and chaffing during these preliminaries, which occupied about 15 minutes.

We were sitting with Frank in the other blind watching the other boys near the live decoys when, suddenly, a big mallard drake launched into the air and started across the pond. This sudden flight of a "decoy" had us stumped for a second, as the domesticated birds, minus wing feathers, can't fly or at least are not supposed to fly.

Porky, standing not 10 feet from the decoys, nearly swooned when the drake set sail, but, slipping a shell into his gun, he nailed the greenhead with a long shot. It was a sure enough wild mallard that had refused to leave when we came up and then tried to bluff his way by a surprise attack.

Chicago Latin Eleven

Swamps Parker, 41 to 0
Chicago Latin school smothered Parker high, 41 to 0, in the annual homecoming game yesterday at Lincoln park. Hogue, star half back, counted for more than half of Latin's touchdowns. Fortune and Hodgson also starred for the winners. The latter was taken out of the game in the fourth quarter with a fractured collarbone.

Do You Know This Lindblom High Star?

This is the fourteenth sketch of Chicago high school football players.

Lindblom, champions of the City Football league for the last three years, has a star lineman, who has played on those three title teams. He is a senior and will graduate in June, after which he expects to enter Wisconsin university. His gridiron achievements include an ability to place kick, and as well as an special knack of deciphering opponents' plays. He is an excellent blocking lineman, a good tackler, and has the necessary weight to make his position extremely hard to penetrate.

This player is a member of the Honor society and the Senior Boys' council at Lindblom. This spring he will commence his fourth year on the baseball team.

The picture of this player will appear in tomorrow's Tribune. The fifteenth sketch will be of a Phillips High star.

WHEAT HELD IN NARROW RANGE; CORN IS HEAVY

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Outside interest in wheat remains light and prices held within a range of 19 1/2¢ yesterday, declining early, only to rally sharply in the last few minutes of trading, and the close was unchanged to 1/4¢ higher, with December $1.25 1/4¢ and March $1.23 1/4¢.

Corn showed a heavy undertone, and closed 1/4¢ lower with December, 82 1/2¢ to 83 1/2¢, and March, 80 1/2¢ to 81 1/2¢ higher, and rye 1/4¢ higher.

Local traders sold against bids on wheat early, and bought against them later, being a factor in making the final upturn with the close at the top. There was buying of futures here against sales at Winnipeg by spreaders, while houses with northwestern connections were on the selling side at times. In all the trade was light and the market easily influenced.

Effective Nov. 1 commission houses here and in other markets must report to the Grain Futures Administration, daily, each and every account having a net open interest in any one future amounting to $50,000 by wheat, corn, or oats, or $50,000 by rye, these quantities applying to Chicago alone, on outside markets must make a report on smaller aggregates. The resumption of the calling of the statements was regarded as having no special significance, and had little effect on values.

Least favorable weather over the corn belt led to scattered buying of futures here, and a moderate advance, but the upturn brought in aggressive selling by a house with Omaha connections which found support lacking and prices dropped 1/4¢ from the early higher and the undertone was heavy at the last. There was selling of December and buying of May. A leading local professional was credited with having been a good seller during the day.

Oats showed resistance to pressure, and despite the decline in corn prices averaged fractionally higher. Trade was light. Rye averaged higher, although interest was small. The seaboard estimated 200,000 bu had been sold for export.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(P)—COTTONSEED OIL—Market continues quiet today but prices, closing 10 to 20 points net higher. Sales, 12,500 bbls. Prime grade, 8 1/2¢; prime summer yellow spot, 10 1/2¢. Dec. closed 10.50¢; Jan., 10.60¢; March, 11.00¢; May, 11.25¢.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

For the present the grain markets appear to have no particular trend in either direction other than a bulge of 40¢, created by an overland or overbought situation. Changes of this magnitude of late have corrected the situation on both sides of the market. Local professionals are doing the principal trading and so far as is known there are no large lines in either grain. Offers were the favorite in wheat and bids in corn, the latter selling at 1¢ spread, against 3¢ in wheat.

Corn traders had it that a good sized line held by a local operator, who has been long on corn and short on wheat, was unloaded during the day through several commission houses. The short line of wheat was said to have been covered on Tuesday. The operator, referring to the market, said he had no particular ideas on either side of wheat or corn.

New corn from north central Illinois grading No. 2 and No. 3 the first of November, as indicated by the three cars received here yesterday, shows the beneficial influence of the recent dry, warm weather in maturing the crop. There have been many years when the new corn was so filled with moisture that it inspected sample grade.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK HIDWAY

Flower growers in and around Chicago are apparently getting ready to paint the town with all colors of the rainbow next spring. Reports coming from gardeners and seed houses indicate that America has been literally sown with bulbs this fall.

An unusual interest in flowers stimulated by various activities in the Chicago territory is chiefly responsible for the increased bulb planting. Added to this has been the fact that there is an abundance of high grade bulbs this season, selling at a low price, and favorable weather here in planting time.

Those who have not planted their bulbs still have a chance to compete with their neighbors in displaying a full round of color in their gardens early next spring. Hardy bulbs may be safely planted out in the open garden.

Home gardeners will be safe in planting tulips, narcissus, the Japanese Tiger and all hardy lilies, crocuses, scillas, snow drops, and hyacinths, both grape and ordinary varieties. All of these are grown from bulbs set in the open garden. Garden experts may all of the bulbs included above may be set out any time this fall before the ground freezes without danger of being killed by cold weather.

OUR DIVISIONAL ORGANIZATION

Out of the experience of sixty-four years' constant contact with Chicago's growth the divisional organization of this bank has been developed to meet adequately the requirements of commerce and industry.

Under this Divisional Organization all lines of business are divided into six groups. Each Division is presided over by two Vice-Presidents and staff. These officers bring to the problems of customers an intimate knowledge of conditions, trends and credits in their respective lines and are fully empowered to act for the Bank. In a sense each Division represents a bank in itself—a bank of intimate and valuable contacts, yet one in which there is co-ordinated every facility of a great financial institution.

This comprehensive service is available to business and professional men, both in Chicago and in the great territory of which this city is the center. Calls and correspondence are invited.

Hog receipts again dropped below expectations and prices recovered fully 50¢ of recent sharp losses. General average advanced, 10¢ at $15.15, with practical top at $15.15. One load of prime 250 lb Iowa butchers reached $15.15, equaling the highest since middle of last week. Actual daily arrivals this week have been 3,000 to 6,000 below advance estimates, Tuesday totaling only 23,595, among the smallest for that day in several weeks.

Producers are apparently holding back hog receipts, as a result of last week's drastic break. Combined arrivals at eleven points first three days of the week at 23,595 compare with 253,000 first half of last week and with 219,000 a year ago. Narrow outside demand, however, enabled buyers to avert a sharp "comeback." Prevailing quotations are mostly 15¢ to 15¢ above the low spot a week ago.

Best steers held to firm price levels again, setting as high as any time of the year. Shipments of cattle from Chicago during the last 30 days have been the largest of the year. Prime 1,200 lb steers held the top figure at $17.75, with 1,000 lb steers at $17.50. Bulk of good beef cattle first three days of the week cleared within a range of $15.00 to $16.00, against $11.45@12.25 during the same period last week. Cheaper grades of steers comprised most of offerings and moved slowly at weak to lower prices. Butcher stock sold firm. Another big break carried selected weaners down to $12.50.

Stewart-Warner Speedometer.

Stewart-Warner Speedometer corporation report net income of $5,108,888 after charges and taxes for 1926, against $7,544,089 in 1925.

This is equal to $8.51 a share earned on its $59,990 shares of no par capital stock in 1926, compared with $12.57 a share in 1925.

Surplus stood at $5,796,394 at the end of 1926, against $5,103,329 at the close of 1925.

In the first nine months of 1927 the company earned $6.59 a share on its capital stock, as compared with $8.01 in that period of 1926.

Of this amount $3.71 a share was earned in the third quarter of 1927, against $2.51 a share in the third quarter of 1926.

The company has been granted a license under Radio Corporation of America patents to use the company's name and permits it to profit by its patents and developments brought out by the Radio Corporation.

Stewart-Warner has paid dividends each year since May, 1913. The present rate is $4.

We regard this stock as fairly high grade. It is, however, subject to rather wide fluctuations on the market.

Brief Answers.

C. A. J., Berkeley, Cal.—Miss Lake Water company first mortgage $5 of 1928 are a sound investment.

C. L. E., Elgin, Ill.—American Tobacco company debenture 4s of 1931 are a sound investment.

S. D., Hamilton, O.—Dayton Lighting company first and refunding 5s of 1927 are a sound investment.

$12.50, exactly $4.00 under the high time last month. Canadian steers averaging 1,450 lb elevated the top range cattle price to $15.50, highest since 1925. The highest price on record for range is $18.50 in 1918, also paid for Canadian.

Native Lambs at $14.10.
Continued small supplies, with top range lambs absent again, brought choice natives to a top of $14.10 yesterday. Advances of 10¢ to 15¢ were general, considering quality and sorting, with an advance estimate of only 12,000 for today adding seat to trading. Receipts at Chicago in three days decreased nearly 15,000, standing 55,000 smaller than two weeks ago. Shorn lambs averaging $5 lb brought $12.25. Yearling wethers brought $11. Aged sheep were scarce and firm. Feeding lambs are in demand around $14.25.

M. E. GOODWILL INDUSTRIES WILL HAVE NEW CENTER

BY AL CHASE.

Goodwill Industries of the Methodist Episcopal church yesterday leased the three story brick building at 215-217 South Western avenue from the Cummings estate, according to the Rev. Walter C. League, pastor of the Century M. E. church.

West Monroe street. The property just secured is 60x100. The building is a three story structure, which will be the headquarters of the industries, although the present quarters on Monroe will continue to be used.

This branch of the Methodist church does an interesting and constructive work. Trucks call at all parts of the city for donations of old furniture and clothes. These are taken to the Goodwill Industries workshops, where they are repaired by men and women employed there, and then sent to people of moderate means. The employees are those who are handicapped by lameness and other things from securing steady employment in regular factories. There will be a subroom on the ground floor of the new quarters.

In telling about the proposed Gothic apartment building at 6529 Kenwood avenue in yesterday's real estate column a paragraph disappeared completely somewhere between the typewriter and the composing room. As a result the comment seemed a bit brief. So we'll add that this elevated story structure will contain forty-five furnished apartments of one, two, and three rooms. It will stand on a 60x100 site. The exterior will be of brick, with cut stone trim. Wollenberger & Co. have underwritten a $300,000 bond issue on the $10,000 project.

The Rubi court apartments at 7014-22 Sheridan road, containing thirty suites, have been sold by Anna Shaffer to Irving B. Epstein for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $170,000. D. L. Oles & Co. were the only brokers and will continue to manage the property. Samuel H. Rosenberg was attorney.

The Hanson & Van Winkle company, electro platers, equipment and supplies, has sold the northwest corner of Erie and Green, 160x136, partially improved with a three story building, which it has been occupying for the Chicago branch, to the Fischer & Hayes Rope and Steel company for an undisclosed consideration.

The selling company has recently completed a merger with its principal competitor, the A. F. Munger company, forming the Hanson-Van Winkle-Munger company. E. Orris Hart of Chandler & Montague was broker and will handle the resale and leasing of part of the property.

The seasonal decline in the automobile body business is credited with causing the loss by the Murray Corporation of America of approximately $200,000 for the third quarter of 1927. Net for the nine months ended Sept. 30, before Federal taxes, but after all other charges, is reported as $311,342, compared with a net of $570,041 in the first half of the year. Gross for the nine months was $1,517,808.

The Boston and Maine railroad recently ordered 18,000 tons of steel rails from Bethlehem Steel corporation. Last year the road placed its rail requirements in Germany. Bethlehem Steel has an order for 200,000 tons from the N. E. Credit company.

COTTON PRICES MOVE UP

Cotton prices after declining in the morning met good buying and advanced and closed at about the best prices with net gains of 46 to 56 points in futures in Chicago, and 40 to 71 points up in other markets. Spot was 55 points up in New York to 22.00, and 70 points higher in New Orleans to 21.00. The advance in the latter market being since Monday's close. Houston was 21.10 and Galveston 21.00. Liverpool closed 12 to 15 points net higher, with spot at 8.00. The weekly government weather crop report was favorable. But cold weather with temperatures near the freezing point in the Texas Panhandle had an inspiring influence on buyers.

It is said that 85 per cent of the crop was picked prior to Oct. 25, against 94 per cent last year. A private crop estimate is for 12,500,000 bales. Prices follow:

FINANCIAL NOTES.
F. & W. Grand 5-10-25 Cent Stores, Inc. is planning to retire its outstanding 11,500 shares of 5 per cent preferred stock and to split the outstanding 100,000 shares of common. The preferred stock is convertible on the basis of one and one-half shares of common for each share of preferred.

A syndicate will offer today a new issue of $2,000,000 three year 5 1/2 per cent gold notes of Federated Utilities at 95 1/2, to yield over 5.90 per cent.

It is understood that the Mortgage Bank of Columbia, the largest and oldest banking institution in Columbia engaged primarily in mortgage credit operations, is negotiating with a New York banking group for a loan of $4,000,000, which will bring total borrowings of the Mortgage bank in this market up to $12,000,000.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The pivotal stocks on the stock exchange were in demand at advancing prices during a good part of the trading today. Professional interests seemed to take a more optimistic view of the market and the drastic housecleaning of the last several weeks seemed in its final stages.

Nevertheless, there were many weak spots, particularly stocks of companies with unfavorable earnings reports and prospects, but the weakness did not extend beyond these issues. The close found the general list rising confidently, brushing aside the attacks of speculative groups bent on prolonging the decline.

Radio Corporation Active.
Of the fifteen or more active stocks that advanced, Radio Corporation was the most prominent. It had an uninterrupted rise from its opening price of 7 1/2 to 8 1/2 at the close, showing a net gain of 4 1/2.

General Motors fell 1/4, advanced 3/4 and then dropped back 1/4. American Tobacco fell nearly 1/2 point at the opening and then advanced 10 points. The "B" stock of that company also rose.

Southern Railway declined, 1/4, advanced 3 and fell 1/2. American Sugar moved up 3/4 points without stopping. Brooklyn Union Gas rose 1/4, then lost 1/4. Chesapeake and Ohio sold off 1/4 at the opening, rose 1/4 and fell back 1/4.

International Harvester moved up 1/4 and declined 1/4. United States Steel closed at its high of 12 1/2 for a net gain of 3 points. Atchafalva was up 1 1/2 when it closed at 18 1/2. Woolworth closed at 17 1/2 for a net gain of 3/4 points.

Oil Shares Are Lively.
Some of the lower priced oil shares came to life today for the first time in many months. The oils have made numerous false starts in recent months, each of them in turn being followed by a gradual decline. Oil men now are figuring that the industry has, or is just about to have, turned the corner.

Several railroad dividend meetings occupied the attention of Wall street followers of the carriers who, however, were disappointed in the expectation of any unusual dividend announcement. There was no word of any out of the ordinary dividend from the regular required dividends was that of the St. Louis-San Francisco, which announced its customary extra payment for this quarter.

The First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds are secured by first mortgage on properties valued at over $11,650,000, including the modern 45,000 kw. electric plant at Norristown, and by direct lien on the remaining property of the Company, valued at over $67,850,000, subject to $13,147,500 underlying bonds, closed for further insurance to the public.

YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN

Doing Things We Hate to Do.

"O gee, mother, how I hate to dry dishes!"

"Well, never mind if you do, Billy—get at them."

"Aw, mother, give me anything to do—wash the porch, scrub the bathtub—anything, only don't ask me to dry dishes. Can't you think of something I like to do that would help you?"

"But Billy, the thing that would really help me right now more than anything else would be drying those dishes."

"O well, all right, mother—I will. But how I hate to dry dishes!"

"Has this conversation a familiar sound? And do you feel rather mean sometimes when you insist on the children's doing work they don't like to do? And do you often weaken and do it yourself? Well, try not to feel mean and try not to weaken."

Did you ever think—as a grown-up—of how many necessary things we have to do that we dislike doing? And did you also ever think of how utterly irresponsible they are? To be sure some of us are more fortunate than others, and can reduce them to a minimum. But even at that, we all have to do some things we simply abhor.

The housewife may love home-making, but it has its unpleasant side. The painter may have a passion for painting and the sculptor for modeling, but each art involves tremendous drudgery. The business man may be absorbed in his work, but it will have aspects and conferences that are extremely disagreeable to him. The author may enjoy writing—nevertheless he may hate the mechanical act of typing, or the inactivity writing involves, or the hours he has to spend in reference libraries. Every one of us is compelled to do things he dislikes.

I think this is a fact of life that it is wholesome for children to realize a little, even when they're young; that certain things have to be done regardless of whether we like doing them or not, and that the sporting thing is to do them with as little fuss as possible.

It is decidedly bracing morally to a child to have someone say to him: "I know you hate to clean up, but I know you hate to clean up. I know because I have to do lots of things I dislike, too. But it's got to be done, so just do it as well and as quickly as you can, and don't waste your energy thinking how much you dislike it. Just do it."

It is a lesson that it takes many of us years to learn after we're grown up, and one which will be of real value to a child to learn when he's young.

A Painful Barbecue.

"The boss had had a bronch on all day and none of us felt friendly towards him as a result. Towards evening I chanced to pass behind his chair carrying a quite heavy letter file of outgoing mail, and, attracting the attention of the other 'slaves,' I proceeded to stop and barbecue what I would like to do to him, which was to bring down the file on his head with a resounding whack, when, to my horror, it slipped from my hand and descended with full force upon his bald spot, the mail scattering all over the room."

With a howl of rage, he leaped from his chair, and what followed, amid the hysterical laughter of the others, certainly proved my most embarrassing moment.

Olive Oil Will

Keep the Hands

Young and Supple

Enlarged knuckles are discouraging things to own in a day when hands are so closely observed. A woman of my acquaintance, whose youth was a tragic thing, reached maturity with her knuckles that made her so self-conscious she used to keep her hands clenched constantly in an effort to hide them. Orphaned at 8, she was let out to a family who put her to work at the most menial tasks—work that would have disgraced the bones of an adult. Today, while her hand is not a beautiful one, at least she is rid of that old self-consciousness, and the knuckles are not noticeably outstanding.

Her trick was to warm olive oil and massage her hands with it, working from the fingertips back, soaking the knuckle joint with the oil and pressing, pressing until the parts became flexible. Taking the thumb of one hand and laying it across the back of the four fingers of the other, right over the joints, she worked the fingers back and forth, back and forth. The thumb came in for separate treatment. But this woman's experience proves that one need not suffer a deformity that makes one feel inferior so long as one has the will to try to improve.

"It takes infinite patience," she told me. "I worked for months and months before I saw any appreciable improvement. But at the end of a year my hands were vastly benefited. The stiffness that makes a hand awkward had disappeared and the joints were flattened down. They were soft to feel, too. In doing this movement of massaging from fingertips down I worked a good shape to the nail tips as well."

In warm olive oil there is a great deal of value for various forms of hand improvement. Discolored, rough, red or wrinkled hands come under its influence. And it is the wise housewife who keeps a bottle of it on hand over the sink and uses it after her hands have been in hot water. For the latter purpose the oil need not be warmed.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

V. B. YES, SWIMMING IS AN excellent exercise for developing the bust, as bust development is accomplished by movements of the arms and shoulders. Do this exercise at home: Stretch the arms out to the sides, then bend the elbows so the tips of the fingers touch the shoulders. Move the arms forward until they touch in front of the chest, then return the arms to original position.
